Donor Naming Opportunities

Naming recognition and designation are subject to the Grace House Akron naming recognition rules, and may be amended from time to time. Under those rules at this time,

- Naming recognition is offered for rooms, spaces and systems. Naming follows a pre-approved menu of items and related donation amounts. The Grace House Akron board may approve naming recognition items and values other than those specified in the most recently approved opportunities list.
- Naming recognition is not transferrable and the related donations are non-refundable.
- A naming recognition holder may choose to relinquish the designation at any time, for any reason. The designation may be terminated by action of the Grace House Akron board if the donor or the designee comes into disrepute within the community at large.
- At the end of the named item's useful life as determined by the Grace House Akron board, the item may be retired and, if so, the related naming recognition will end. Rooms are anticipated to have longer useful lives; at the end of the useful life of a room the Grace House Akron board will seek to provide recognition in another way.
- The design and wording of any recognition sign will be determined by the Grace House Akron board. There will be no business or product logo on any recognition sign. Grace House Akron will provide, install and bear the cost of the recognition signs.
- Donation amounts are not linked to the cost of any room, space or system. Donated funds will be used for any Grace House Akron-related purpose determined by the Grace House Akron board. References to the "Grace House Akron board" mean the board of directors of Grace House Akron, Incorporated or any designee thereof.
